

Comtech Telecommunications Corp. Receives $3.0 Million to Continue Development of a Rapidly Deployable AEHF Terminal

July 25, 2019

MELVILLE, N.Y.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jul. 25, 2019-- Comtech Telecommunications Corp. (NASDAQ: CMTL) announced today, that during the fourth quarter of fiscal 2019, its Command & Control Technologies group, which is part of Comtech's Government Solutions segment, was awarded $3.0 million in rapid innovation funding from the U.S. Transportation Command ("USTRANSCOM") of the U.S. Department of Defense ("DoD") for the continued development of the Advanced Extremely High Frequency ("AEHF") "Protected Ultra" ("P-Ultra"), protected SATCOM fly away terminal in support of the Joint Communications Support Element ("JCSE").

This program supports the Army's Network Modernization Strategy and the end state for the future Army Network where: i) Warfighters will be able to fight, shoot, move, communicate, protect and sustain, and ii) Warfighters will be able to reliably communicate anywhere, anytime, in all domains, in all environments, against any foe.

"This funding begins an effort by Comtech to deliver secure, protected communications to the warfighter at the battle's edge. This terminal will ensure that our soldiers have continued communications even when near-peer adversaries attempt to interfere," said Fred Kornberg, President and Chief Executive Officer of Comtech Telecommunications Corp.

The Command & Control Technologies group is a leading provider of mission-critical, highly-mobile C4ISR solutions.

Comtech Telecommunications Corp. designs, develops, produces and markets innovative products, systems and services for advanced communications solutions. The Company sells products to a diverse customer base in the global commercial and government communications markets.
